

Albert Taylor

Albert Taylor was born about 1875 in Tennessee, the son of Pleasant Green Taylor (1849-1889) and Mary Drewery (1846-1908). Pleasant Taylor and Mary Drewery were married January 3, 1867 in Dekalb County, and had four known children, Amanda (1869--), Charlie D (1872-1962), Albert (1875--), and Elbert (1875-1906).

The Liberty Herald reported that “Elbert Taylor of Hicks, we are glad to say, hasn't suffered but very little from that terrible disease, “Epilepsy.” Albert and Elbert were probably twins as both were born in 1875.

Some researchers omit either Albert or Elbert, but both have a marker at Mt Holly. The birth and death dates given for Albert are from the tombstone of Elbert, May 8, 1875 – 29 June, 1906.
